This meticulously kept up with Spanish estate affords everything you look for in the Austin area from convenience to privacy. If you love to entertain, then your friends will talk about the enormous rooftop patio, as well as the views at night of the city skyline. The chef's kitchen is big enough for any growing family or the most meticulous bachelor or bachelorette and paired with the vaulted ceilings, you will afford a lot of room. Everything you'll need is in within walking distance from the new, HEB grocery store, to popular restaurants, so your commute will be an enjoyable one. Don't miss out on your dream home, call me today!

My name is Josue 'Josh' Martin and I have been serving the San Antonio and Austin community since 2005 when we moved from Los Angeles California, looking for a fresh start. My family and I always believed that empathy and customer service went a long way so with that said we have been using these two tools to provide outstanding client services to all of the families we have helped far and wide. From buying the land, to investing all the way to buying and selling luxury, we have been in the forefront of it all and have become a wealth of knowledge for our clients and realtor partners worldwide. When you work with us, it's not another transaction, it's a game plan to further one's wealth one house at time because as we know, the best investment on earth, is earth.
